OPDs of Private Hospitals, Petrol Bunks closed in city

Protest against Govts' policies

Mysuru, June 16 (RK&NNN)- Health and transport, the life-line of common man is hit, then life can go out of gear.

The city this morning witnessed these two sectors up in arms against the policies of the Governments both at the Centre and in the State.

First, the petrol bunks in the city were shut since early morning. This was followed by the outpatient departments (OPDs) of private hospitals and nursing homes, which stopped functioning.

There are 75 bunks in the city and 247 in Mysuru district, while Mandya district has 120 bunks, Chamarajanagar 100, Hassan 150 and Kodagu 90 petrol bunks. The outlets belonging to BPCL, HPCL and IOC were closed. However, Reliance and Shell outlets that are not supporting the strike are open.

The closure of bunks for the day, has affected only the tourist vehicles, goods vehicles and trucks coming from different parts of the country.

But the people of the city were not affected as most of them had filled their petrol tanks the previous evening itself.

Cattle, prattle, rattle

All this hullabaloo about public outcry on what one should or should not include in one's daily palate going on in every nook and corner of the land appears to be revolving around the declaration of the nation as a secular democracy. Prima facie, such a declaration was not part of the nation's Constitution at the time the guiding manual was formally adopted on Jan.26, 1950, but rather surreptitiously introduced in 1976 by you-know-who which has been criticised by some keen observers of such measures taken at different times as sheer expediency, if not motivated. The glitch in that landmark step is that people at large were not taken into confidence as required in a true (and not phony) democracy. The episodes being reported every day in the media featuring different sections in the population mutually hurting the sentiments based on beliefs and ideologies of different faiths have taken off from the point of requiring India's diaspora to adhere to secular principle. This fallout was perhaps not visualised by the powers that be before modifying the country's Constitution. Now, the clock cannot be put back.

Religion and politics (as practised by the players in the field) are separately keeping the land's masses on their toes. The two — religion and politics — together have made life of people into a mess that it is today. Rights of people to lead their life as they wish in matters of worship, attire, food habits, customs and taboos, forgetting their responsibilities in the matter of respecting the ways of others is the main undoing of people at large in this functioning anarchy.

Clamouring for restoration of sanatana dharma in our times, going by the voices from well-marked sources sounds a bit incongruous, the country having been subjected to infiltration by aliens over centuries with two among them pitching their tent in the land and ruling for decades, resulting in the spread of alien faiths. History's pages can be rewritten but history cannot be changed. At the end of the day, it is far too late to question the ways of people of those faiths that go along with their ideologies, at variance with those of indigenous populations. The choice before the masses of the land now and hereafter is between accepting the differences to live in harmony or practice vigilantism to prattle and rattle mutually, with cattle coming on centre-stage.

Some may take umbrage at raising an interesting point on worshipping the cow and not accepting its slaughter for food. In this context, do the exotic breeds such as Red Dane, Holstein, Jersey and others as against desi breeds such as Hallikar, Amrit Mahal and others, merit exclusion from the ban on slaughter. Fortunately, buffalo is outside the radar of the vigilantes for now.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

All over the world, people are getting shot. No, it's not World War III. The people getting shot – teenagers, unclejis and auntiejis, techies and traders, Presidents and Prime Ministers – are shooting themselves by taking selfies. Selfies – snapshots taken of oneself on one's mobile phone, preferably against some historic or scenic landmark – the Taj Mahal, or Buckingham Palace, or the Grand Canyon – represent the fastest growing popular sport on earth. Selfies haven't, as yet been officially declared an Olympic event, but it's probably only a matter of time. So central have selfies become to our lives that mobile phones are no longer just phones but surrogate cameras enabling us to take pictures of ourselves. Before the invention of the selfie, when visiting a tourist spot, you had to depend on the kindness of strangers by asking them to take a picture of you posing along with your partner. This exercise entailed the risk that the stranger in question might not only be a lousy photographer who'd cut your head off in the frame but, worse, might turn out to be a con artist who'd run off with your expensive camera. The selfie obviates such risks. But it exposes us to other hazards. Selfie-takers have been known to become so engrossed with getting the perfect shot that they lose their bearings and fall of the edge of cliffs, or into rivers, or in front of an oncoming bus or locomotive. — Jug Suraiya in the Times of India.

Fighting age discrimination

Seoul: 'EverYoung,' a technology company based in Seoul, South Korea, has an unusual yet strict condition when hiring new staff — candidates have to be at least 55-year-old. It's been this way ever since 'EverYoung' was founded, in 2013, and it now employs 420 seniors aged 55 to 83.

'EverYoung' is a content monitoring company which trains its staff to use platforms on Naver, South Korea's version of Google. Their main tasks are censoring sensitive information on Naver Maps, and monitoring content on various blogging platforms, but some are trained in several IT skills, and sometimes even conduct coding classes for kids. Chung Eunsung is founder of 'EverYoung' says that it was a "practical and concrete" way of doing something about age discrimination, which he considers a "very pressing" issue in South Korea.

"Are You Really My Friend?"

Augusta: Ever take a look at your Facebook friend list and wonder 'how many of these people are actually my friends?" Well, artist Tanja Hollander did, and after thinking about if for a while, she decided to find out the answer to that question by visiting all of her 626 Facebook friends. She documented the experience in an epic 5-year-long project called "Are You Really My Friend?"

It all started on New Year's Eve 2010, when, after conversing with some of her online friends, Maine-based artist Tanja Hollander stared wondering what her relationship with all the people in her Facebook list was. She asked herself, "am I really friends with all these people?" and she immediately knew she had to find out. The plan was pretty straightforward, she had to go visit all her 626 of her Facebook friends, spend time with them, and take photographs of them for an art project. She ended up traveling an average two weeks per month, for a period of five years, but she actually managed to visit all the people in her friends list, documenting every encounter on her Facebook & Instagram accounts.

Students should explore job opportunities

Sir,

This is in response to the article "Keep your eyes and ears open" by N.K.A. Ballal (Star of Mysore dated June 8). I would like to share our experience when we got our son admitted for B.Sc at Yuvaraja's College.

After completing 12th from Kendriya Vidyalaya (with 90 percent), he wanted to learn Physics. He told me that he would rather sit at home if we forced him to go against his wishes. Even though we were happy to take such a decision, the people around us (well-wishers) advised us not to take such a 'foolish' decision.

The comments went on like this: "What job will you get after BSc.?" "Why didn't he join IISc.?" We stuck to our decision. The boy is doing MSc. in Physics now.

This is not the case with everybody. A girl whom I know wanted to take Commerce after getting 10 CGPA (CBSE syllabus) in 10th class. Her parents, not much educated, agreed to that. But the "well-wishers" brainwashed her parents telling that Commerce is for less intelligent students and brilliant students like her should take PCMB (Physics, Chemistry, Maths, Biology) and try for both engineering and medicine. Finally the girl who didn't want to become an engineer or a doctor ended up in taking PCMB.

Lest they end up as unemployed engineers and doctors

Firstly, most of the students are not aware of the courses and opportunities other than engineering and medicine.

Secondly, in our country, people are so obsessed with the two IIs. It is only because there is a belief that an IIT graduate will be hired by foreign companies with heavy pay package. IITs are not the only place where one can learn technology and IISc., is not the only place where one can learn science.

Thirdly, do we need an IIT in each State? I feel that we have to concentrate more on primary education. Even though there are many private schools, the common man cannot afford to send their children there. We need well-run government schools of good standard. They can charge nominal fee, need not run free of cost. Trained teachers should be appointed and should be paid reasonably too.

To conclude, teachers, parents and students should open their eyes to explore job opportunities coming up in other areas. Otherwise our country will be a place filled with unemployed engineers and doctors.

Youth ends life over alleged Police atrocity

Mysuru, June 16 (RK&NNN)- A 23-year-old youth whose marriage was to be fixed, committed suicide, at his house yesterday. The atrocity committed by Saraswathipuram Police, is the reason for him ending his life, alleged his relatives.

Shankar

The unfortunate youth is Shankar son of Krishnappa, from Udbur village. He was taken into custody by the Saraswathipuram Police on Wednesday, when he was in Rajarajeshwari Nagar. His family members alleged that he was beaten black and blue in the Police Station and was released in the evening.

Saraswathipuram Police Inspector Nagegowda speaking to Star of Mysore said that a person was moving around suspiciously in Rajarajeshwari Nagar since the last couple of days. One Balu and a few other people had orally complained that this youth was harassing women and children in the area. The residents again had complained on Wednesday afternoon that he was conspiring to do something. Based on the complaint, Constable Kantharaju had brought Shankar to the Police Station, he said.

When he was subjected to interrogation, it was found that not only was he harassing women and children, but was also planning to steal. In the light of this, a complaint was registered under CrPC Section 109 and on the direction of DCP Dr. H.T. Shekar, he was released in the evening on station bail, said Nagegowda.

When he reached home, the relatives of the girl whom he was to marry and the villagers have berated him. Humiliated, Shankar decided to take the extreme step and committed suicide by hanging himself on Thursday morning at around 8.30 in his house, said the Inspector.

Jayapura Police Station Sub Inspector Mahesh has registered a case in this regard and investigations are on. Yesterday afternoon the body was sent to Mysore Medical College and Research Centre (MMC&RI) and after the post-mortem, the body was handed over to the family members.

Shankar was working as a mason. If what Saraswathipuram allege about him was true then was he hatching a plan to steal from quite some time? If he was misbehaving with women and children, then why no written complaint was filed against him? How could the Police take action based on oral complaint? Are some of the questions that are being heard.

The relatives are alleging that the Saraswathipuram Police brought him to the Police Station and registered a false complaint against him forcing him to accept something, which he had not committed.

If there is detailed investigation about his death, then the truth will come out. However, Shankar, a mason, who hailed from a poor family ended his life under suspicious circumstances. Will any pro-poor organisations come forward to fight for his family, is the question doing the rounds.

Last rites of city youth who died under mysterious circumstances in Saudi held in city

MP Pratap Simha offers condolence to grieving family, extends financial help

Mysuru, June 16 (YDS&KS)- The last rites of a youth from city, who had died under mysterious circumstances in Saudi Arabia about 85 days ago, was performed at the Muslim Burial Grounds near Tipu Circle here yesterday.

The youth, identified as Shabbir, a resident of Vidyaranyapuram in city had left Mysuru to Saudi Arabia on July 8, 2016, through his relative and an agent Khaleel of Arasikere, who had got him a job of a cab driver in Damam.

But on Mar. 25, 2017, Shabbir was found hanging in his room under mysterious circumstances and his body arrived to Bengaluru on Thursday (July 15) at about 8.40 am and reached Mysuru at about 4 pm.

As the parents of Shabbir had expressed doubts over his death, post-mortem was conducted at Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI) and the body was handed over to the family members.

The body of Shabbir was brought to his residence in an ambulance and was kept there for sometime and later, the last rites were performed as per Muslim traditions at the Muslim Burial Ground near Tipu Circle.

MP Pratap Simha offers condolence, extends help

Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha, who visited the house of Shabbir, offered condolence to the grieving family besides extending financial help.

Speaking on the occasion, the MP said that the death of Shabbir, who had gone to Saudi Arabia to earn and take care of the family had saddened him and added that the it is more saddening for the parents who had taken care of him for 25-30 years and now seeing him dead.

He said that about two months ago, Shabbir's parents had approached him requesting him to get the body of Shabbir. The MP had assured them of helping them and was in constant touch with the Embassy in Saudi Arabia.

He further said that as there were many procedures to be completed, there was delay in getting the body to Mysuru and added that he would get Shabbir's sister a job if she likes to work in Dubai or in a private company in the State, wherever she wished.

He later paid his last respects to the body of Shabbir.

Information on non-acquired land of villages must be sent through City Planning Cell

Mysuru, June 16(RK&DM)- MUDA Commissioner Dr. M. Mahesh has directed the City Planning Cell to itself send reports on acquisition of land in villages and not to refer the files received from the DC office seeking opinion on land conversion and acquisition in villages, to the Land Acquisition Cell.

Over a cup of evening Tea

By Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem, MD

A time to hang up the Stethoscope?

Legislation to rein in Private Health Care: A case of cure being worse than the disease !

Every morning of every working day, over the past forty years, with a silent prayer to the Almighty to make me an instrument of His Grace, I've been picking up my stethoscope and putting it around my neck with a sense of elation and pride that only a fellow doctor can understand.

It may seem a little surprising to others but the fact that this is a routine daily act has not diluted the intensity of these two emotions in the tiniest measure! Elation; because it is a reminder that medicine, the art and science that I have learnt with a passion, has been providing me and my family a means of livelihood and thus a dignified and comfortable existence. Pride; because the same art and science has given me the power to heal and thus ease the pain and suffering of others.

It is my unshakable conviction that in no other profession can a person do as much direct service to mankind as in the practice of medicine. But although the sense of elation and pride have both thankfully remained intact, the practice of medicine itself over recent times, seems to be going through a silent but significant metamorphosis for the practitioners of the art themselves. And, sadly, while it should have been the other way around, it is a metamorphosis from pleasure to pain and from delight to disgust, thanks to government insensitivity and interference.

The governments, both at the Centre and the State, which themselves run very large health care establishments, that need much cleaning and tidying, seem to be hell-bent on making life miserable for the private health care providers who have been doing a significantly better job of managing the health of the nation. I say this from the observation that all those who wish to seek good and dependable health care and who can even slightly afford it, shun government hospitals like the plague and turn to private hospitals. They do not mind borrowing money to get treated there. Statistics too, which people say are a bunch of lies, say more or less the same thing...that seventy percent of people in our country prefer to get treated at private hospitals when they fall sick.

When this is the case, the government too should have been happy that private health care providers are doing a significantly decent job and focussed its attention on improving the quality of services in government hospitals which stink of inefficiency and obsolescence. But this does not seem to be the case.

While the Central government seems to have completely bought out the Medical Council of India, a governing and regulating body that is itself desperately in need of some transparent governance, our State Government in a rather rash and rasping move, plans to bring in legislation that can literally hamstring and cripple the private health care mechanism in the State. This disgusting dose of lethal medicine is coming in the form of an amendment to the already very irrational KPMEA Act that was thrust upon us about six years ago without our consensus. The new amendment has an overt threat for private doctors and hospitals in its every paragraph. The quantum of modification that has been made from the original act is very interesting and noteworthy. Wherever the penalties for lapses were around rupees five thousand they have now been made rupees one lakh. They now come with the bonus of a mandatory imprisonment for the heads of hospitals that can range from a minimum of three months to a maximum of three years. These penalties can now be applied for something as silly as an error made by your billing clerk or cashier!

The amendment also says: Every private medical establishment shall follow the rates as fixed by the government including the package rates for investigation, bed charges, operation theatre procedure, intensive care, ventilation, implants, consultation and similar tests and these procedures shall not attract additional charges over and above such rates fixed by the State Government. Apart from regulating the costs, this amended Act imposes umpteen other restrictions that dictate how private hospitals should function. They say that hospitals should not insist on the payment of an advance at the time of admission and should allow the patients to go home even if they are unable to settle their bills. The Act says that dues should be collected later from the patients' relatives ... as if patients' relatives will happily make themselves available for settlement of bills once the crisis is over!

Now my question is: why has the government singled out only the private health care players for this regulation? When it is supposedly doing all this in the interests of patients, why has it very conveniently left out every kind of quality control requirement for government hospitals which are actually in a most miserable condition across the length and breadth of the State? Are the people who go there not patients? Are they not in need of quality care?

According to some members of the drafting committee, when the amendments were drafted all the quality control provisions in it were supposed to be applicable to all government hospitals too. But when they were released, the government, to avoid embarrassment to it, has very conveniently deleted them. What I would like to ask is when there is absolutely no cap or any kind of restriction on the pricing policy of other professions like hotels and restaurants that cater to the needs of the public, why should it be there for hospitals and nursing homes? When it is natural for hotels and restaurants to fix their charges depending on how posh they are, what is wrong in hospitals fixing their charges on how advanced their equipment and services are?

As it is, medical equipment is among the most expensive hardwares and it has the shortest useful life considering the rapid attrition due to technological advancements. How can the government which is famous for ill-understanding ground realities in every single field, decide whether the charges it fixes for hospital services can help them to sustain themselves, let alone making profits? Lawyers too deal with people and their problems. Why has the government not thought of fixing charges for their services based on the number of court appearances they have to make for each case? Does it have the guts and gall to do this? I think not.

On the contrary, our government itself has been very willingly and meekly paying astronomical fees to the lawyers it has engaged to fight its own cases on matters like our river disputes. It has been doing this year after year without as much as getting itself a stay from the Supreme Court on the daily release of the Cauvery water even in the time of a Statewide drought. I think the time has come for all private doctors to unite in the interests of their dignity if not their livelihood and oppose any kind of harassment and end it once for all.

We should end our soft and laid back approach and stand up for our rights. We should take a leaf out of the lawyers' book of unity and solidarity that deserves to be appreciated and applauded for its unwavering steadfastness across the length and breadth of the country and make it an example for forging our own. The battle that we fight now should be the mother of all battles. And, the only way to do this is to hang up our stethoscopes, shut our establishments indefinitely and take a much-needed break with our families and let the government taste its own medicine by managing the health problems of the public on its own with its own rickety infrastructure. And while we are at it, we can also watch the fun on our TV screens!

OPDs of Private Hospitals, Petrol Bunks closed in city

Meanwhile, surprised at the stand taken by the petroleum dealers, the Territory Manager of BPCL Jagannath Rao rushed to the petrol bunk on KRS Road and threatened to close down the retail outlet immediately if they do not keep it open. He allegedly told the owner of the bunk, "You go ahead and keep it closed, we will close it permanently."

A few of the members of the Federation of Mysore Petroleum Traders (FMPT) and IOC Dealers Association reached the spot on hearing about the highhandedness of the Territory Manager. Then they had a discussion with him explaining how when they were protesting, the dealers had supported them, said Ranjit Hegde, Secretary of IOC Dealers Association to Star of Mysore.

The dealer of the outlet stood firm and closed the bunk supporting the strike. But there was pressure on him to open it, said Hegde.

"The day is not too far off when the petroleum dealers will also have to resort to suicides like the farmers in this country. The proposed Marketing Discipline Guidelines (MDG) is so draconian that no bunk can function even for a day if they are strictly implemented," he said.

"If by chance the pump automatic dispenser is not working when the official from the corporation concerned visits, then the bunk has to be closed for sixty days and a fine of Rs. 5 lakh will be imposed. If this is not bonded labour then what is it," said the FMPT Association President Shashikala Nagaraj, speaking to Star of Mysore.

"This is like adding insult to injury. We are now striking for a day as a token of protest. If the government does not listen to us, then we have to take harsher steps," she warned.

Private hospitals protest

Protesting against the State Government's move to implement the Karnataka Private Medical Establishments (Amendment) Bill 2017, most of the private hospitals and nursing homes in the city shut their outpatient departments. However, the casualty, emergency and operation theatres were functioning as usual.

The hospitals where the OPDs have been closed include BM Hospital, Brindavan Hospital, Apollo Hospital, Columbia Asia Hospital, Narayana Hridayalaya, Cauvery Hospital, to name a few.

KR Hospital, Primary Health Centres, the Maternity Hospital in Nazarbad, Community Health Centres in the Taluks and Hoblis and District Hospitals were all open. As a result there was rush of patients at these places. Even some of the private clinics in areas like Kuvempunagar, Gokulam, Ramanuja Road were open to treat the patients.

To treat the extra rush at KR Hospital, the Post Graduate students and interns were pressed into service to treat the patients.

Meanwhile, nearly 150 doctors, all members of the Indian Medical Association charted three buses from JK Grounds and left for Bengaluru to participate in the State-wide protest.

The Bill provides for imposing a penalty up to Rs. 5 lakh and imprisonment of up to three years if hospitals/nursing homes collect charges higher than that fixed by the State Government. The person who runs the hospital will be held responsible for violations and minimum penalty has been fixed at Rs. 25,000 and imprisonment of not less than three months.

Office-bearers of Kodava Samaja, Mysuru; Deenabandhu Charitable Trust, Mysuru; relatives and well-wishers visited the hospital and paid their last respects to Cariappa. His body was donated to JSS Hospital later in the evening.

Jumbo tribute for his wife

K. T. Cariappa had adopted an elephant named 'Abhimanyu' at Mysore Zoo as a tribute to his late German wife Ursula Cariappa, by paying Rs 1.20 lakh as adoption fee, as she was very fond of elephants. Till his last breadth, he kept alive the memory of his beloved wife through charity. Since 2009, Cariappa had been distributing clothes to mahouts of the Dasara elephants and study material to their children apart from other requirements.

A philanthropist, Cariappa generously donated to various organisations like Deenabandhu Charitable Trust, Mysuru, which reaches out to the very poor people of Kodagu and lend a helping hand at educating their children; Kodava Samaja Mysuru; Kodagu Model School in Sathagalli; Sri Ramakrishna Ashrama in Ponnampet, apart from helping in cash and kind a poor family of three blind children in Periyapatna for the past five years after being moved by a report published in Star of Mysore.

Cricket is all that Vanitha dreams...

She was 11-years-old when she first stepped on the cricket field. With no cricketing background, this talented cricketer has emerged as one of the most sought after women T20 cricketers in the current era. Having made her debut for the Indian women's team a couple of years back, this talented cricketer has showed her elegance and class to the world.

Meet Vellaswamy Vanitha, popularly known as V.R. Vanitha, the girl who has successfully made inroads into women's national team. She is now in Mysuru to promote Women's Pro Cricket League (WPCL), her brainchild through which she aims to promote women's cricket in this part of the State. Star of Mysore spoke to this talented cricketer. Excerpts...

By S.N. Venkatnag Sobers

Star of Mysore (SOM): Take us through your cricketing journey?

Vanitha: I was 11-years-old when my dad enrolled me to a cricket academy. Initially, I was not keen to take it as a profession but my dad was. After a year of joining that academy I represented the State U-16 team and since then there has been no looking back. And, I have continued to play professional cricket since.

SOM: Are you disappointed not being part of current women's World Cup team?

Vanitha: Yeah, it is tough to be out of the team. But then, I have been playing T20 format for the country and the team management is looking at me as a T20 specialist. I am working hard. Probably, I should make it to the 50 overs format soon. I look up to Ricky Ponting and Mithali Raj when it comes to cricket aspect. And Roger Federer when it comes to overall sports. He has been my role model.

SOM: How has the women's cricket evolved according to you in recent times?

Vanitha: From the time I have made my debut we have been doing really well. The team has gained a lot of recognition and I feel it is the right time to play professional cricket with the introduction of contract system and steep hike in the match fees. To play professional cricket one needs to have financial support. When the BCCI is providing such facilities the team will do better. Right now BCCI has got the MoU in such a manner that whoever sponsors the Indian Men's team also sponsors the Women's team. Adding to this, women cricketers are getting better deals with individual companies. With the Women's Cricket World Cup round the corner it really is helping the players to prepare well.

SOM: What are the chances of Indian women winning the World Cup and which teams according to you will be tough to beat?

Vanitha: The girls have prepared very well. The team has learnt a lot through preparatory and condition camps and also had match practice which is perfect for any international team ahead of a big event like the World Cup. The team has also landed early in England and will take part in the preparatory camp before they begin their campaign.

"It does play on our mind to be conscious about our looks. But, at the end of the day when we don the blue jersey and hit the ground nothing else matters. All sporting women thrive to represent their country. Once they get a chance the aim would be to do their best and bring laurels for the country. When you perform well you reap the benefits, through which you can afford to get back your looks and have better life."

Board is doing a fabulous job to help the Indian women's team to prepare for the World Cup. When it comes to tough competitors for India, I think Australia and England are the teams to beat. Otherwise, our girls have beaten almost all the other teams. We have also done well against Australia in Australia and know their strengths and weaknesses.

SOM: What's your take on the current domestic circuit for women's cricket in the country?

Vanitha: I really wish that domestic cricket season is prolonged for six months instead of the current 3-4 months so that players get more matches to play in different formats. Currently, the multi-day format is introduced but it is in the zonal level. I wish it could be introduced at the State-level as it will be a great morale booster for women cricketers. When it comes to the growth of women's cricket, a lot of young girls have taken up cricket both as their passion and profession. A few girls, who are currently in the Indian team, were considered to be emerging cricketers, but now we are all a part of the team and raring to perform and build a strong team.

SOM: How tough is it for women cricketers to maintain fitness?

Vanitha: It is very difficult for us to maintain physical fitness. We play less number of matches when compared to men. And, to keep the optimal level required for us to be match fit requires a lot of training. For us, the off-season is more compared to men. We need to train continuously which takes a lot of toll on the body. And, sometimes you get bored to be training all time and not get enough matches to play which is why I have come out with the initiative of Women's Pro Cricket League (WPCL) to give more match practice for the girls.

SOM: Do you get conscious about looks while playing on the ground?

Vanitha: It does play on our mind to be conscious about our looks. But, at the end of the day when we don the blue jersey and hit the ground nothing else matters. All sporting women thrive to represent their country. Once they get a chance the aim would be to do their best and bring laurels for the country. When you perform well you reap the benefits, through which you can afford to get back your looks and have better life.

SOM: Share with us your thoughts about Mithali Raj and Jhulan Goswami?

Vanitha: It is an honour for me to be playing alongside Mithali Raj, Jhulan Goswami and a bunch of cricketers who are considered to be the legends of women's cricket. This apart, Harmanpreet Kaur has also emerged as a world class cricketer. And playing with these cricketers, I have learnt a lot not just in terms of handling myself but also to evolve as a cricketer and perform better each day. Interactions with these players always help in enhancing our performances and grow as a better cricketer.

SOM: There have been talks about IPL kind of league for women. What's your take?

Vanitha: I think it will be a fantastic initiative to promote women's cricket in the country. T20 format is one thing which interests everybody across the world. Big Bash (Australia) has come out on its own, Super League in England and other leagues across the world are slowly coming up. I am confident that BCCI will come up with a similar event in the near future.

SOM: What's your daily routine?

Vanitha: Not much. I get up and head to training in both the morning and evening session. Apart from cricket, I take care of my pre-school, which I started last year, and also the organic business. As and when I get time, I make sure to involve myself to create awareness about organic food, which helps people to have a healthy lifestyle.

CHAMPIONS TROPHY

India storm into final

Birmingham, June 16- It was a classic case of the master giving a lesson to an upstart apprentice as India thrashed Bangladesh by 9-wickets to book a place in the final of the ICC Champions Trophy for the fourth time. The high flying Bangla Tigers were brought back to the ground as the 'Men in Blue' outclassed their opposition with both bat and ball. The victory also means India will take on Pakistan in the final on Sunday (June 18) at The Oval in London, in what would be a first meeting between the arch-rivals in the final of an ICC 50-over tournament.

After their bowlers had restricted Bangladesh to a below par total of 264, the Indian top order of Rohit Sharma (123 not out), Shikhar Dhawan (46) and Virat Kohli (96 not out) made a mockery of the target, chasing it down with 59 balls to spare.

Bangladesh needed to put pressure on India by picking up early wickets but the old firm of Dhawan and Rohit didn't allow the opposition to make any in roads. Both batsmen attacked Mustafizur Rahman to defame the 'mystery' bowler early as runs came a brisk pace for India.

Dhawan launched an aggressive attack in the eighth over as he hit Taskin Ahmed for two boundaries and a six, as the Bangladeshi paceman was guilty of pitching the ball too short.

The duo, who are the most successful opening pair in the history of Champions Trophy, were all-set to put on another century stand, until Dhawan had a brain snap. He walked down the pitch to Mashrafe Mortaza and in search of a boundary that would take him to his fifty, he ended up getting a leading edge, which was caught at backward point, to depart for 46.

India had lost their first wicket with 87 runs on the board and Bangladesh sniffed an opportunity. But Rohit Sharma, in the company of Indian captain Virat Kohli, ensured Bangladesh never had a chance.

Rohit brought up his 11th one-day century in style with perfectly timed hook shot off the bowling of Mustafizur Rahman. It was Indian captain's turn to reach a landmark as he became the fastest to score 8000 runs in ODI cricket (175 innings), beating AB de Villiers' record by 7 innings.

India chased the target down on the first delivery of the 41st over with Virat Kohli hitting the winning boundary. Earlier, Bangladesh flattered to deceive in their innings as a 123-run third wicket stand between opener Tamim Iqbal and Mushfiqur Rahim put the Tigers in a position from where they could have easily notched up a total in excess of 300.

WORLD HOCKEY LEAGUE

India score 4-1 win over Scotland

London, June 16 - India conceded a surprise early goal but made a fine comeback by pumping in four quick goals to beat minnows Scotland 4-1 in their opening match of Hockey World League Semi-Finals here yesterday.

Scotland captain Chris Grassick struck as early as the sixth minute to stun the Indians who trailed 0-1 till the end of the first two quarters. India, however, recovered and scored four times in the third quarter to run away with full points in the Pool B match. Ramandeep Singh (31st, 34th), Akashdeep Singh (40th), Harmanpreet Singh (42nd) were the goal scorers for India.

The first quarter belonged to the underdogs Scotland who displayed good attacking skills to put India on the back-foot. They held on to the ball possession for a greater part of the first quarter keeping the Indians in the hunt.

While the Scottish goalkeeper Thomas Alexander was impressive with his saves, it was skipper Chris Grassick who got an early lead for his team with a splendid deflection that beat Vikas Dahiya to the post in the sixth minute.

It was a baseline pass by Kenny Bain picked up by Grassick perfectly to stun the Indian side. Both teams slowed down the pace just a little bit in the second quarter. India played cautiously, rotating the ball only to make well-calculated entries into the opposition striking circle.

India's marquee midfielder Sardar Singh was in the center of action with some impressive dribbling, trying to make space in the circle. But, Indian forwards were denied the equaliser by a determined Alexander who continued to impress with his saves. He padded away Akashdeep Singh's shot on goal in the 25th minute to end the second quarter with advantage to Scotland.

The ten-minute break at half-time was put to good use by India's chief coach Roelant Oltmans who brought about strategic changes to create opportunities in the circle. It worked wonders with forward Ramandeep Singh finding a breakthrough in the 31st minute. He struck a cracker of a goal with a reverse hit from the top of the circle, beating defender Willie Marshall to equalise.

Ramandeep struck again in the 34th minute when forward S.V. Sunil assisted from the baseline. A perfect deflection by Ramandeep earned India a much-needed 2-1 lead. At the end of the third quarter, India enjoyed a comfortable 4-1 lead. India play their next Pool B match on June 17 against Canada at 6.30 pm IST.

Bommalapura social boycott case

Warring groups engage in wordy duel

Gundlupet, June 16 (Som.G& DM)- Even as the controversy rages over the boycott of 25 families of Bommalapura village in the taluk for voting in favour of BJP candidate in the Gundlupet Assembly by-poll held recently, two warring groups entered into heated exchange of words and virtually came to blows right in front of State Women's Commission Chairperson Nagalakshmi Bai, who visited the village yesterday to have first hand information about the incident.

Following the incident, tension prevailed in the village forcing the Chairperson to order for a strong Police presence in the village.

Bommalapura has been in the news over reports that 25 families have been boycotted by the rest of the villagers for voting in favour of BJP candidate.

Nagalakshmi Bai, who was on a door-to-door visit at the village was hearing a family, when a shop owner of the village alleged that articles in his shop was deteriorating due to the boycott. Taking exception to the shop owner, another group refuting claims of boycott said that false rumours were being spread. This led to a war of words between the two groups and the Police intervened and diffused the situation.

Nagalakshmi Bai realising that the village was tense, called Chamarajanagar DC B. Ramu over phone and directed him to enhance Police presence in the village and to submit a factual report to the Government about the incident.

Just as the Women's Commission Chairperson Nagalakshmi Bai left after realising the tense atmosphere in the village, a group of villagers is said to have assaulted a woman who had been to purchase ration at a shop in the village.

The assaulted woman has been identified as Dundamma, 40 and has been admitted to Gundlupet General Hospital, where she is said to be recovering.

Following the incident, KSRP platoons have been rushed to the village. SP Dharmendra Kumar Meena, ASP Geetha Prasanna, Tahsildar K. Siddu, TP Executive Officer Pushpa M. Kammar, Suresh and other officials visited the village.

WORD OF THE DAY

Loquacious

Pronunciation: Loh-KWAY-shus

Meaning: Full of excessive talk: wordy; given to fluent or excessive talk.

Examples: "We would sit together for about half an hour, the silent old lady and the loquacious little girl, while I babbled on at her and she smiled and nodded and patted my hand." — Anna Russell, I'm Not Making This Up, You Know, 1985

"And although [Dwight Eisenhower's] syntax was sometimes twisted, he worked on his speaking ability, so much so that he was not afraid of having regular news conferences (he had 193 by the end of his second term, identical to the sum held by the more loquacious Bill Clinton)." — Thomas V. DiBacco, The Orlando Sentinel, 3 May 2017.

Origin: When you hear or say loquacious, you might notice that the word has a certain poetic ring. In fact, poets quickly snatched up loquacious soon after it made its first appearance in English in the 17th century and, with poetic license, stretched its meaning to include such things as the chattering of birds and the babbling of brooks. In less poetic uses, loquacious usually means "excessively talkative." The ultimate source of all this chattiness is loqui, a Latin verb meaning "to speak." Other words descended from loqui include colloquial, eloquent, soliloquy, and ventriloquism.

THE ODD WORD

Quoz

Absurd person or thing.

IDIOM OF THE DAY

I see you stand like greyhounds in the slips

Meaning: I see you are ready and anxious to depart.

Origin: The slips are the slip collars that are worn by greyhounds when they are about to be raced. When the dogs were used for hunting (coursing) these collars allowed the huntsmen to free a pair of dogs at a moment's notice. The allusion in the phrase is to soldiers who are anxious to charge in to battle. The line comes towards the end of the famous 'once more into the breach' speech from Shakespeare's Henry V, 1598:

KING HENRY V:
I see you stand like greyhounds in the slips,
Straining upon the start. The game's afoot:
Follow your spirit, and upon this charge
Cry 'God for Harry, England, and Saint George!

QUOTE BOX

The future has a way of arriving unannounced.
